FALL

Frosh Unite

Teamwork, determination, and plenty of spirit all contributed to make the building of the freshman bonfire an event never to be forgotten. The night air was filled with screams, laughter, and cheering . . . O-T-T-E-R-B-E-I-N . . . . Let's go! Pajama-clad freshmen snaked their way through the campus, danced around a roaring bonfire, and ended at the steps of the president's home singing the "Otterbein Love Song" All proved to fill the class of '78 with the spirit and sense of belonging which is Otterbein.

The third annual I.F.C. All-Campus Blast once again demonstrated "How to throw a party." The Westerville Armory was filled with students refreshing themselves and getting down to a little boogiein'.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is the organization of Greeks on campus, and represents all campus fraternities. The I.F.C. sponsors this event annually to give freshmen and independents a chance to meet the brothers of the fraternities.

Nancy Shelton captured first place in the Freshman Talent Show for her dramatic oral interpretation of a poem. Placing second and third in the great row of talent were Sue Ball and Ann Myers. Sue sang her way to the number two spot, while Ann Accompanied herself on the piano as she sang. Randy Adams and Bob Pettigrew acted as the wacky masters of ceremonies for the event. The Freshman Talent Show was a successful endeavor for all involved.

The spirit was prevalent. The striving for victory was constant. Combined, both led the Otters to the first winning campaign since 1964. Under the fine coaching of senior mentor, Robert "Moe" Agler, and his able assistants, the Cards provided plenty of excitement for Ohio Conference fans. The Cards were sparked offensively by senior fullback, Steve Schnarr, one of the leading ground gainers in Otterbein's history, plus the fine arm of freshman Bill Hillier.

Though the season ended on the bright side, it was shadowed by the resignation of Coach "Moe" Agler, the winningest coach in Otterbein grid history, and thirteenth among Ohio Conference all-time winners. Agler will remain in his current position as athletic director and also assume the newly created position of Director of Facilities at Otterbein's Rike Physical Education–Recreational Center.

Preparation

Homecoming at Otterbein is perhaps one of the biggest and most important events of the year. To present their candidates, all sorority sisters prepare a serenade for her to be sung during a ceremony prior to elections. Also, during the week before Homecoming, the sororities and fraternities work diligently through the night to create that winning float.

Court is chosen

Homecoming 1974 began by the traditional selection of candidates from each social sorority and an independant candidate. Mem Miller (top left to right) was chosen to represent Tau Epsilon Mu; Becky Grimes, Sigma Alpha Tau; Ruth Johnson, Epsilon Kappa Tau; Diane Hammer, (Bottom left to right), Tau Delta; Barb Smith, Theta Nu; Sharon Hoy, Independant; and Marcia Wladecki, Kappa Phi Omega.

"Try To Remember"

This year's theme "Around the World in Eighty Days" provided for great imagination and color spectrum. The heart of all lies in tradition. The variegated floats wound their way through the streets, Theta Nu sold big yellow mums, the band played to perfection, and the royalty led the parade.

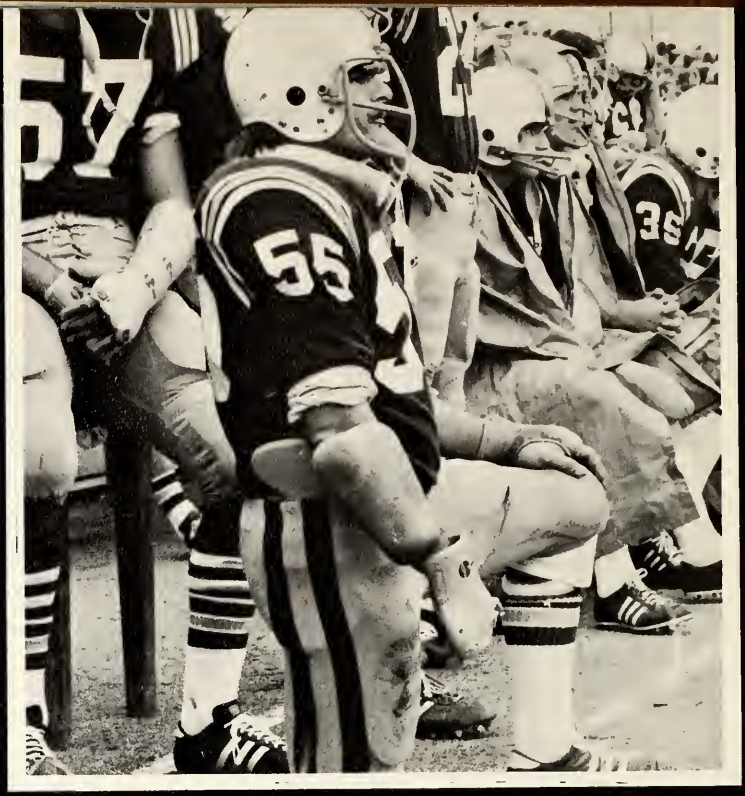
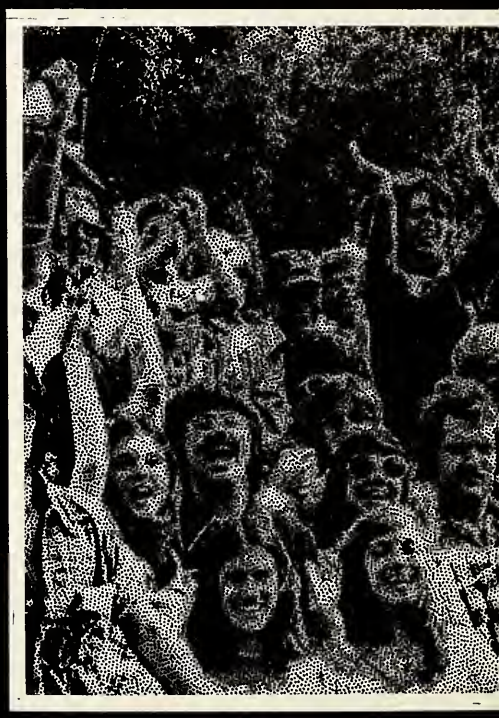
Coronation

With the late October weather beautifully obliging, Homecoming 1975 was an exciting and eventful day. Selected to reign over the festivities was Mary "Mem" Miller of Tau Epsilon Mu. Chosen as the Maid of Honor was Ruth Johnson, Epsilon Kappa Tau.



"Best In Years"



"The greatest victory I've ever had," exclaimed Head Coach Moe Agler before a Memorial Stadium homecoming crowd of 3,500. Otterbein came back from 10-7 half time deficit to defeat Muskingum 28-10, for the second time since 1944. It was in this game that senior Steve Schnarr broke the century mark by rushing 111 yards in twenty-two carries.

Band Amplifies Football Season

The band's snappy marching and thrilling music provided plenty of excitement during the football season. Adding color to the musical 150 were feature twirler, Theresa Blair, drum major, Gary Wooten, and the precision O Squad and Flag Corps. Director Gary Tirey had his pre-season worries, but after all was said and done, he was very pleased. The marcher's high acclaim brought forth invitations to both Detroit Lions and Buffalo Bills football games.

Count Dracula was presented as the Otterbein College 1974-75 season opener. The cast and crew responded to the high demands by performing brilliantly. The infamous count, portrayed by Jim West, along with special effects provided by the sound and light technicians, added a mysterious, eerie tone that stimulated the audience. This, combined with the fastpace action and the count's quest in search of life-giving blood and a desire to rule the world, made for an exciting presentation which Director James Avidon maintained was essential. Of course, the great success of the play was due largely to the magnificent performances by the entire cast. All of these ingredients made Count Dracula a superb production.

"This is Ragtime" performed by Terry Waldo at the Keyboard opened the 1974-75 Artist Series. It was evident that Terry has an enthusiasm and empathy for classic ragtime unusual in a man still under thirty. Jacques D'Amboise, internationally acclaimed ballet star and leading dancer of the New York City Ballet, produced a stunning evening of dance, "Ballet Encounter." Other guest artists included: Prof. Peter Schickele's "The Intimate P.D.Q. Bach," a satire of musical madness, "On the Lighter Side" with Lois Hunt and Earl Wrighton presenting their interpretation of the musical comedy world, and a rug concert given by four members of the Columbus String Quartet. Lastly, Jack Aranson brought his electrifying one-man show, "Moby Dick," to Cowan Hall.

"During the more reflective moments, I realize that all I know are feelings. I believe that is all any of us know. I feel deeply about each of my dances. They spring forth full of life for a fleeting instant and then exist only as a memory. They are mysterious and elusive like the other intangible things in life," expressed Valerie Hammer, Otterbein's 1974 Affilate Artist. She went on to say that dance is not only a dream, but much more. While at Otterbein, Ms. Hammer worked with various classes on campus and small groups. She also conducted a workshop for students interested in dance, in which she hoped to teach students not only dance, but movements in different dynamics and range and also to be aware of their bodies. Her Spring concert which included Otterbein students was an enchantment. Valerie Hammer is definitely a talented young artist with a brilliant career ahead of her.

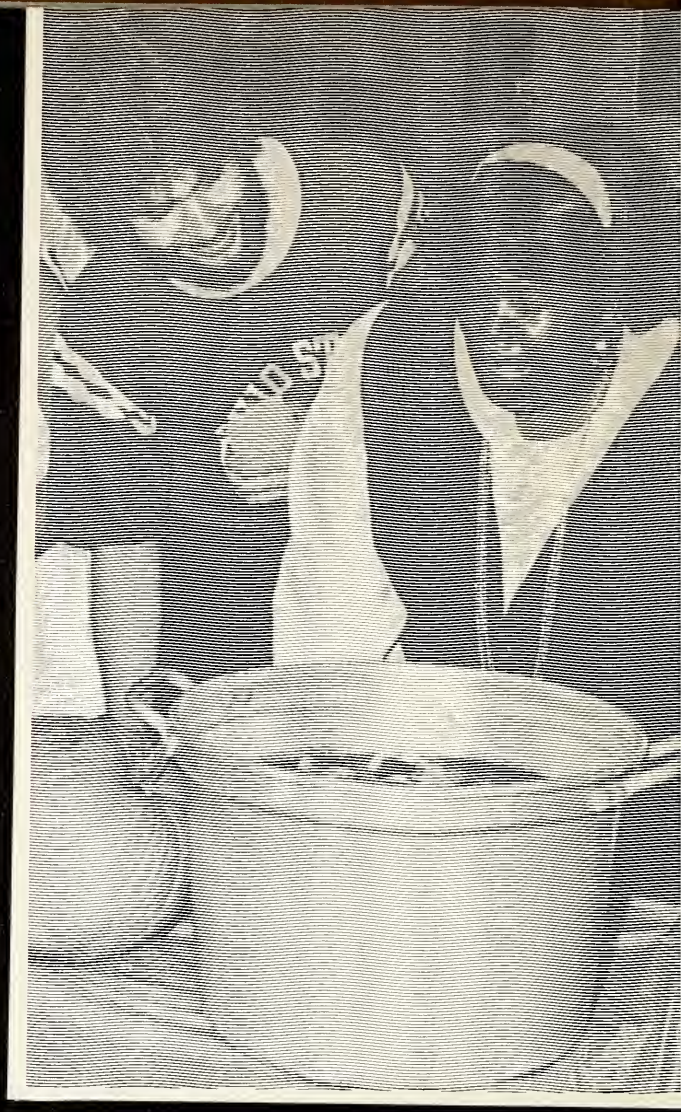
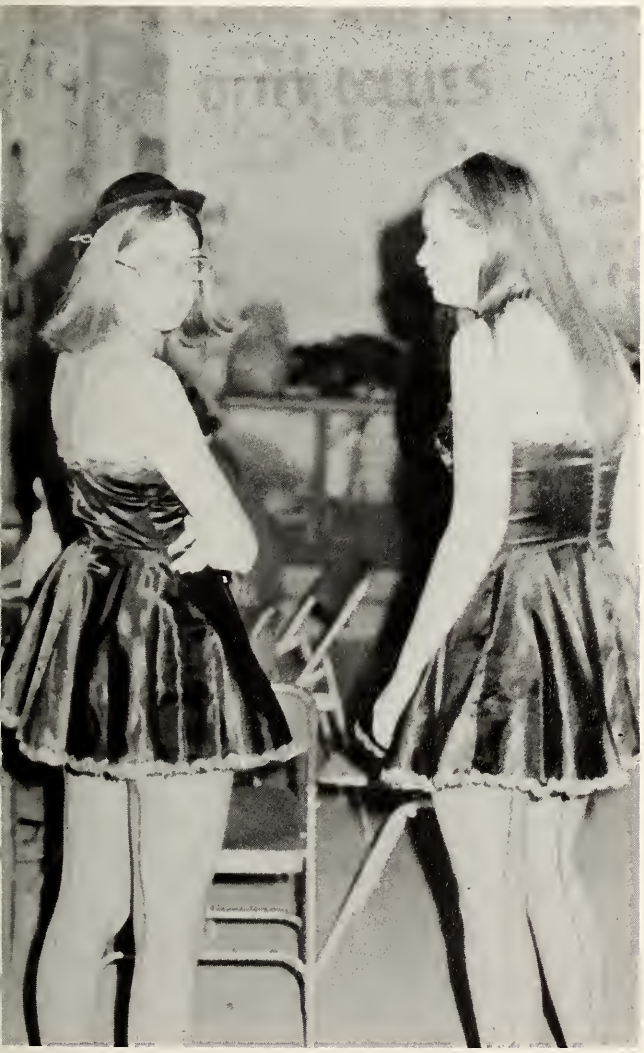
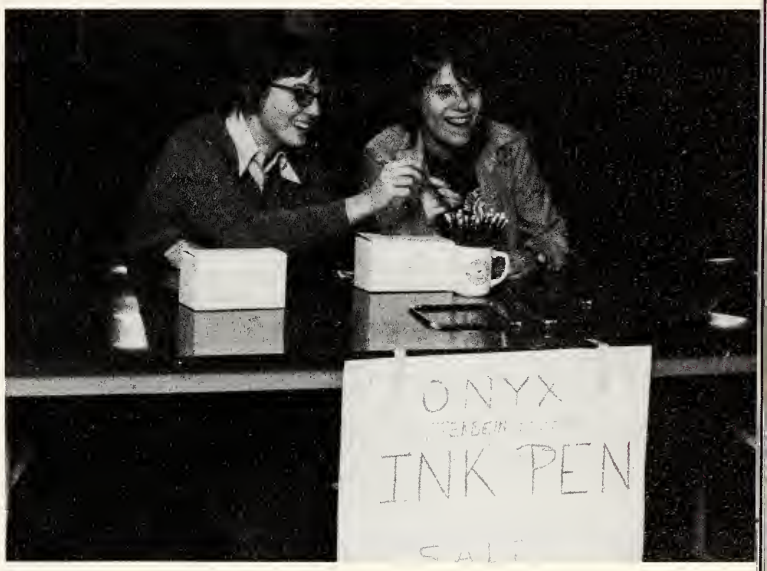
OTTERBEIN

Feasting, Bobbing For Apples and Pumpkin Caroling . . . .



Panhellenic is the governing body for the seven sororities at Otterbein. As a self-governing organization it regulates matters pertaining to sorority life on campus. Its membership is comprised of three delegates from each of the seven sororities.





The teetertotter marathon was sponsored by Pan-Hel to raise money for the National Hemophiliac Society. Participants from each sorority relived their childhood by teetertottering in one hour shifts for a twenty-four hour period. Donations accumulated well over one hundred dollars.

Whether it is sorority volleyball, fraternity football, or GDI competition, intramurals is involvement for all.

Not all of Otterbein's athletes display their talents in varsity uniforms. An extensive intramural program allows both men and women to participate in football, volleyball, or basketball.

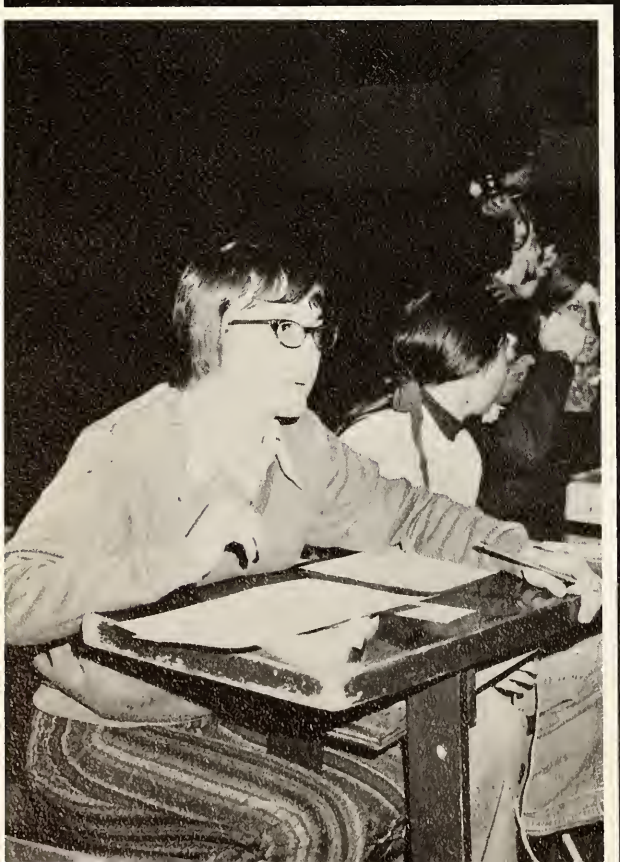
Sport's-Minded Women



Hard work, sweat, and frustration characterized the 1974-75 volleyball season. New coach Mrs. Kathleen Hannie, and team spirit and pride, inspired the girls not only to win, but more important, to do their best. Although the season was somewhat dismal, the girls' dedication and willingness to put forth that little extra effort will make next year's team even better.

The transformation of Cowan Hall into that Emerald City of Oz delighted actors and audience alike. The Wizard of Oz was nothing less than perfection. Children were charmed by the appearance of eighteen muchkins and lured down the Yellow Brick Road with Barb Kosciuk as Dorothy, Cal Skaates as Toto, Jim West as the Cowardly Lion, John Cain as the Tinman, and David Robinson as the Scarecrow. The play, directed by Mrs. Petie Dodrill, was a pleasant escape from the pressures of reality.

The Whole World Classroom

World Campus Afloat is a unique educational experience. The program seeks to introduce students to the varied cultures of man through study voyages. For the student, World Campus Afloat becomes his community in which learning and living interact twenty-four hours a day.

On-The-Job-Training

McCurdy School, located in Santa Cruz, New Mexico, provides quality education for over six hundred students in a Christian atmosphere. The school's primary goal is to serve every young person with a special need. A limited amount of students in elementary or secondary education may be selected for a term of study and internship. Often, study projects are related to the merging of Spanish, Indian, and Anglo-American cultures.

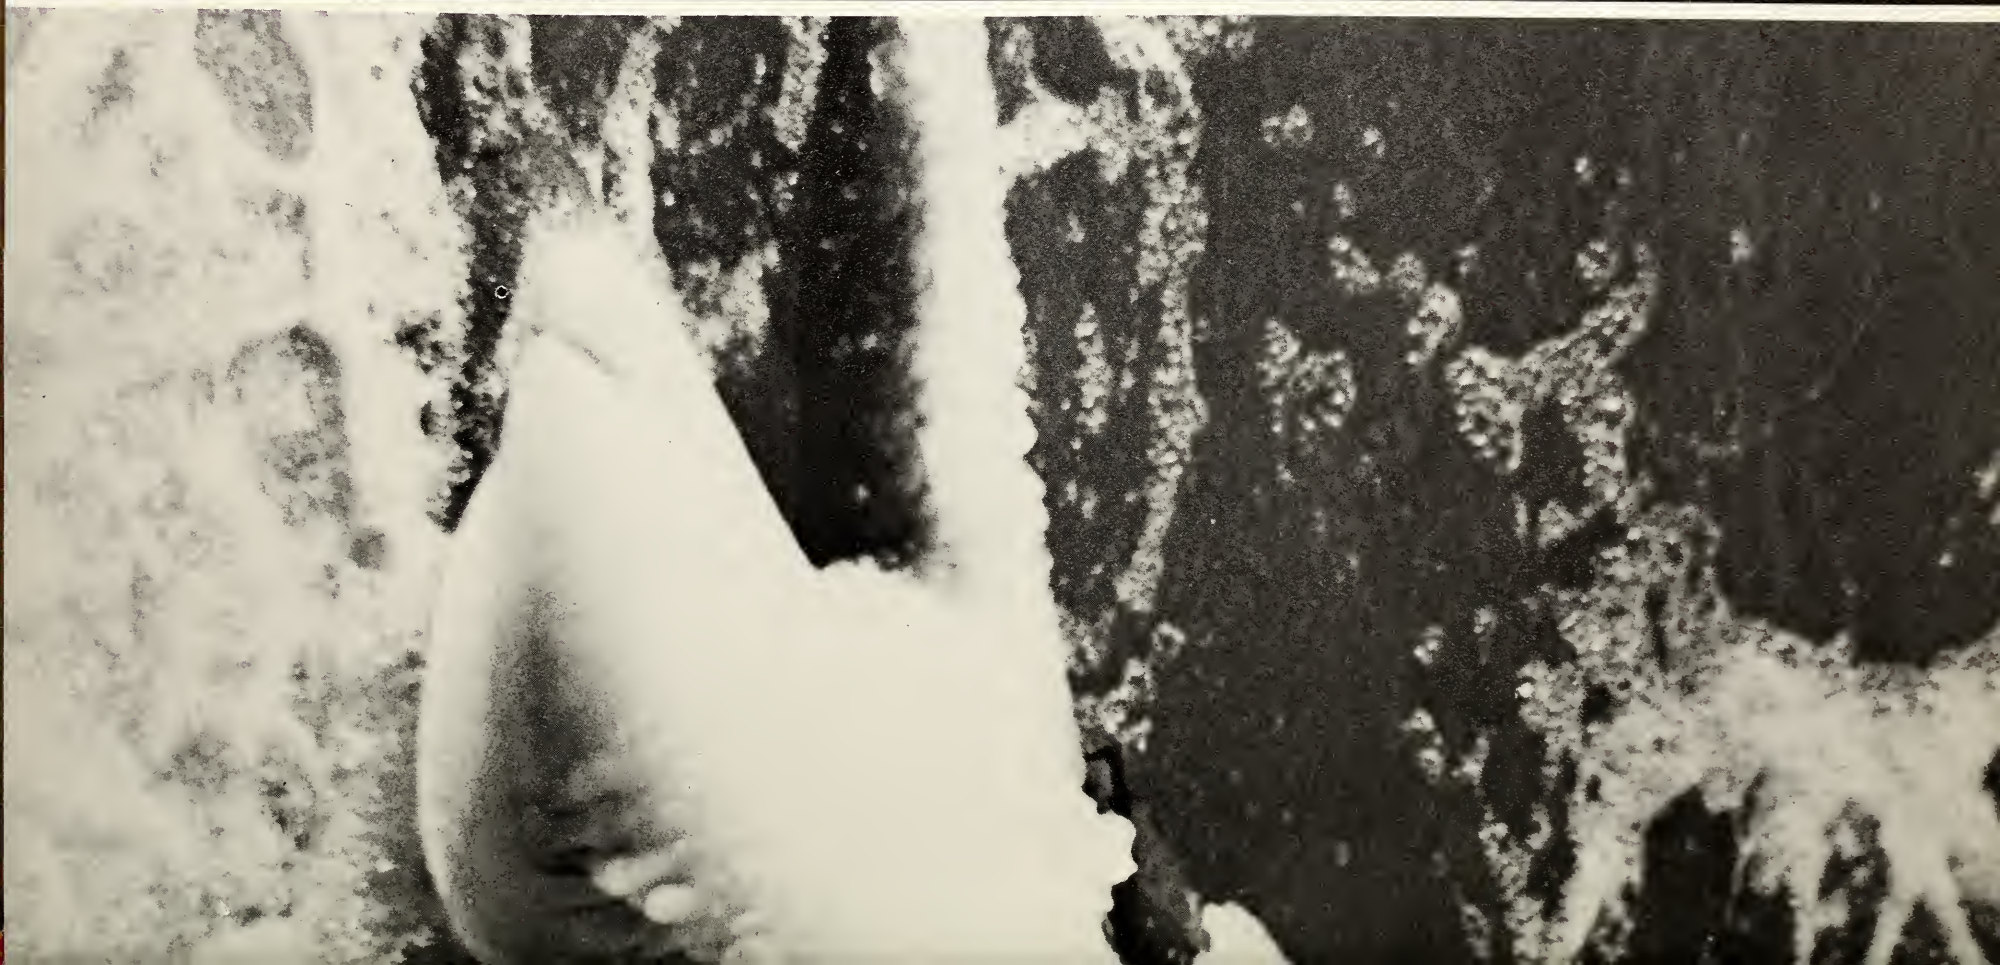
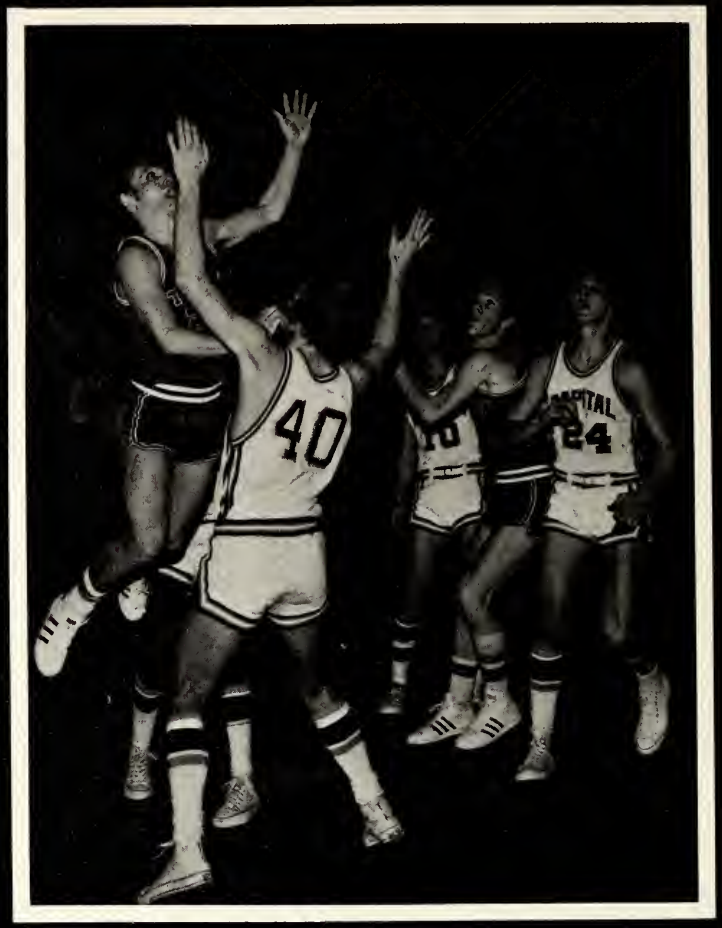
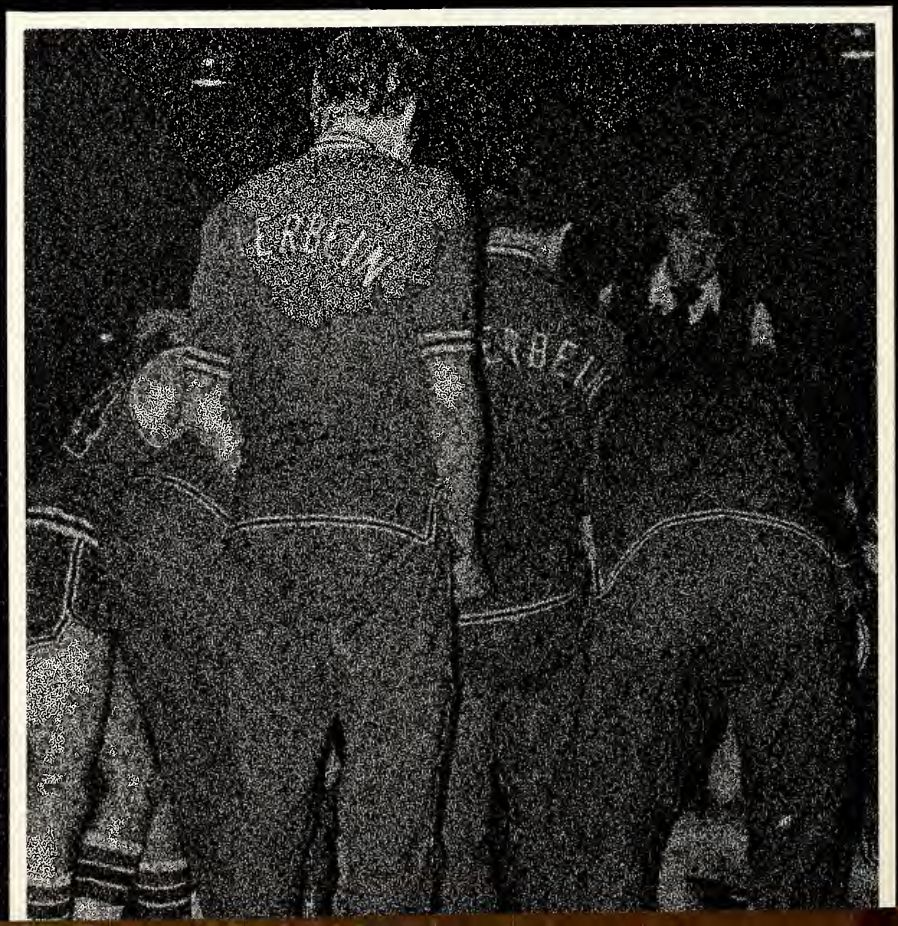
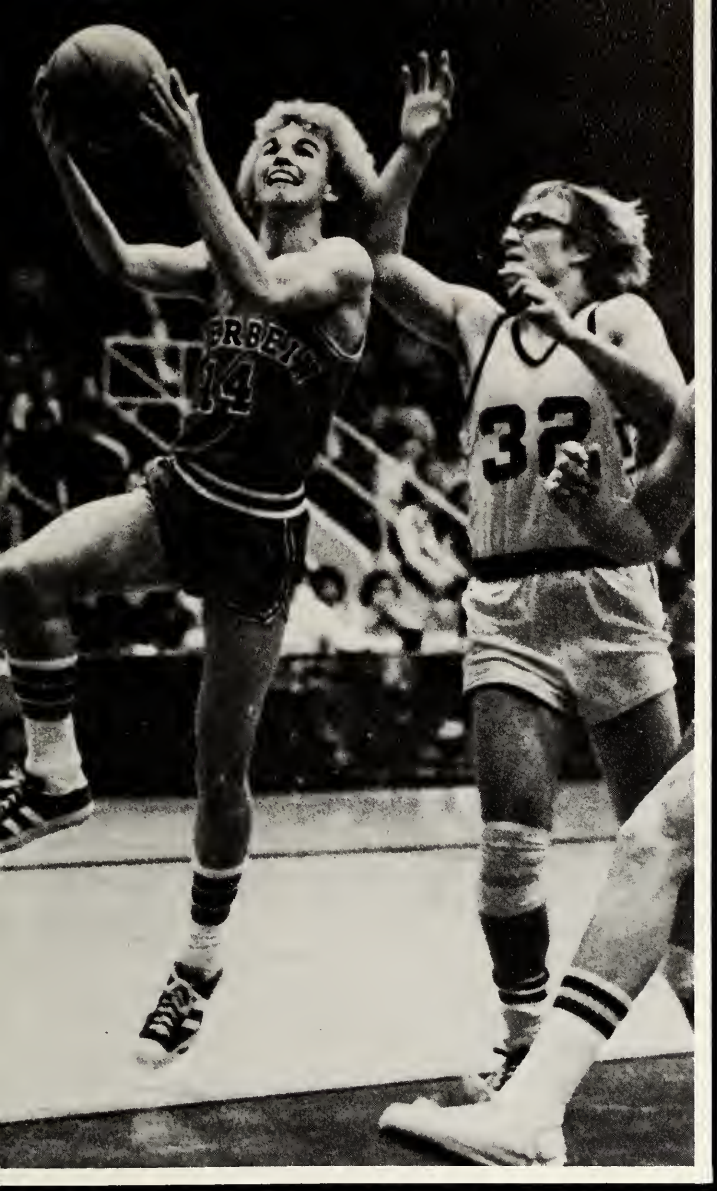
WINTER



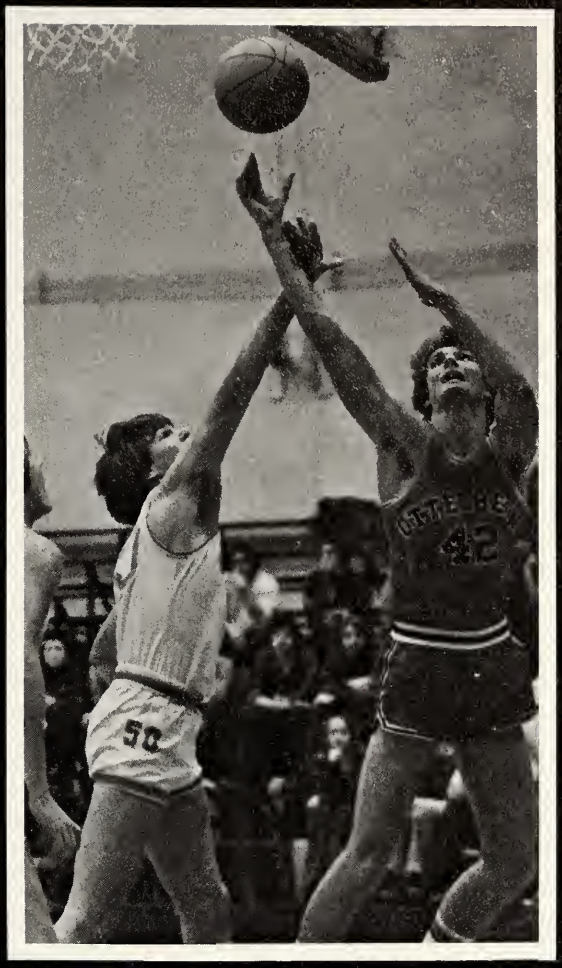
"Now Hot, Now Cold"







32



Though it took some time for the offense and defense to come together, the season record of 9-9 represented a fine effort by all team members who were shuffled around by Coach Dick Reynolds. Balanced scoring attacks from both starters and back-ups, combined with the effective help given by the strong performances of the reserves proved instrumental in play. Yet, the key factor in the Otter cage fortunes this season was the combination of Deckard, Hays and Buchan.

This year's fourth annual Opera Theatre production opened with two one act operas, "Amahl and the Night Visitors" and "The Impresario". Under the direction of Dr. William Wyman and senior theater major Bill Brewer, the two works offered delightful contrasts and the performances were better than ever.

On the keychain of life not only is there a key to opportunity and knowledge, but also a key to the memories of the past.

Les Fourberies de Scapin

Scapin gave students an opportunity to work in the "commedia" style. The object of such is to entertain by working improvisionally to recapture the spirit of broad farce and just good fun. Patricia Ryan, a Denison University faculty member, was guest director.

The highlight of the Weekend was the announcement of the 1975 Winter Homecoming Queen. Five sophomore girls are elected by their class to reign over Winter Weekend. Darla Launder was crowned the Queen and her court consisted of Ann Stallings, Theresa Blair, Melanie Costine, and Jan Kassing.

Crystal Reflections

Winter Weekend '75 commenced with CPB's ski trip to Clearfork Ski Resort followed by ice skating later in the evening. Also planned for this weekend was the Otterbein-Oberlin basketball game (in which we were victorious) highlighted by the coronation of the queen. After the game, a semi-formal dance, "Les Reflections Crystal-line", brought this magical weekend to a close. Its French theme coincided with the French-oriented play, Scapin, also being presented this weekend.

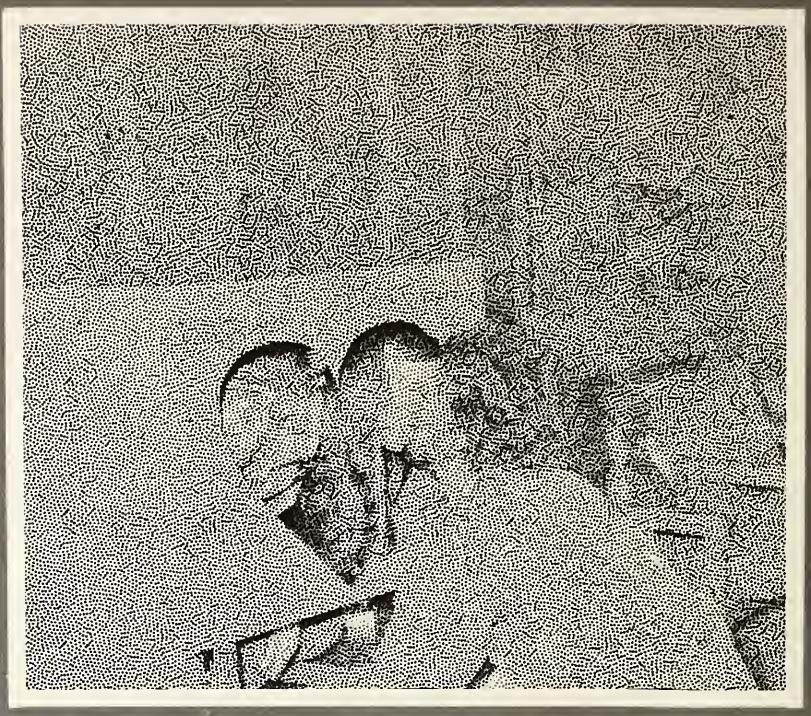
A Real Barn Buster!

Assuming a Dogpatch atmosphere, the Pit was filled with students decked out in their "Sunday-go-to mettin'" clothes for the Sadie Hawkins fling. Nearly everyone participated in the square dancing. !Sure was a real hum-dinger!



"Selective Realism"

Robert Forster, noted stage, film, and television actor, was the fourteenth guest professional to appear at Otterbein. "Streetcar Named Desire is perhaps Tennessee William's most celebrated play. The tragic drama revolves around the visit of Blanch DuBois to New Orleans and an ultimate conflict with her brother-in-law, Stanley. Forster starred as Stanley, a role originally played by Marlon Brando. The Otterbein Theater Department sets professional standards for all student productions. Students feel lucky to study theater under such capable instructors.

"Battle of Wits"

Residence Program Service sponsored a "Whiz Quiz" tournament similar to the "In the Know" television game show. Questions were posed to teams of four players each. Topics ranged from varied fields such as literature, science, history, music, art, geography, vocabulary, and general knowledge. By the way, do you know which figure of Greek mythology was forced to spend eternity pushing a rock up a hill?

Mass confusion reigned before each rehearsal as members retrieved instruments, grabbed music folders, and exchanged anecdotes about Director Gary Tirey. However, from such chaos came excellence.

The Concert Choir, under direction of Dr. William Wyman has released a two-album recording of representative selections included in the choir repetoire from 1971-1975. The choir is a major touring ensemble which works hard but also enjoys many good times together. The vocal music department remained outstanding as always this year.

Artist Series

"Ballet Encounter", an evening of dance and comment conceived by Jacques D'Amboise of the New York City Ballet opened the Artist Series for winter term. Closely following this was Robert Gralnik's lecture on the life and times of Chopin. The Columbus String Quartet, a young energetic ensemble of musicians performed an informal Rug Concert. The setting provided an informal introduction to chamber music and an exciting musical experience for all.

Women Basketteers

Although the season was a disappointment since they did not record a single victory, there was a bright spot. This year's Women's Basketball team consisted of eight freshman and two sophomores. The girls were able to become more accustomed to playing together and should promise to be quite a threat next season. The team was coached by Denise Durocher, a new addition to the Otterbein faculty list.

SPRING

To be an active champion of Otterbein you need to keep thoroughly acquainted with what Otterbein is doing.

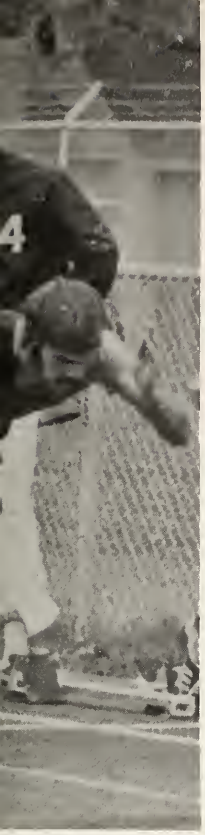
OTTERBEIN
TRACK



Otter Cindermen

Even though the track team had a slow start outdoors, they turned in a sparkling performance in the Conference meet. The Otters had a considerable stronger team this year because so many individuals qualified for the championships and because these individuals had a very good chance of placing well in their events. Mike Westfall and Roger Retherford were voted most valuable by the team members. Dan Wetzel received the Outstanding Frosh award for this track season.

But Otterbein College remains .....
.. distinctive .....

Dismal; yet bright

This year's women's softball team played a rather dismal season. Coach Denise Durocher explained the teams losses due to inexperience in the field. However, after lots of playing experience and time, next season should be brighter.

Otter Hurlers

Early season control problems plagued the Cardinal hurlers, while sixty feet away several Otters came home with respectable batting averages. Larry Beck, who led the Otter and the Ohio Athletic Conference in hitting with a .500 average was voted the Most Valuable Player by his teammates. Don Dyson, both a starting and relief pitcher went home with the Most Valuable Freshman Trophy.

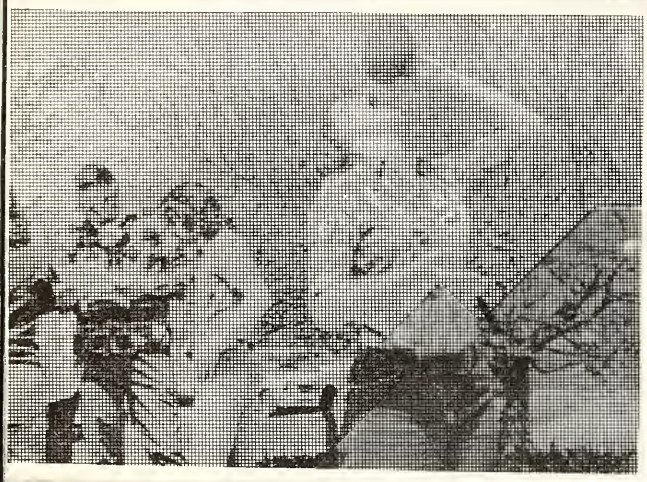
Do You Have . . . . .?

The annual Scavenger Hunt sponsored by C.P.B. got off to a slow start with only six teams entered. Students had two days to find such items as a prof dressed as an animal or perhaps a semi truck. Cash prizes of $50, $30, and $10 were awarded to the groups with the most items.

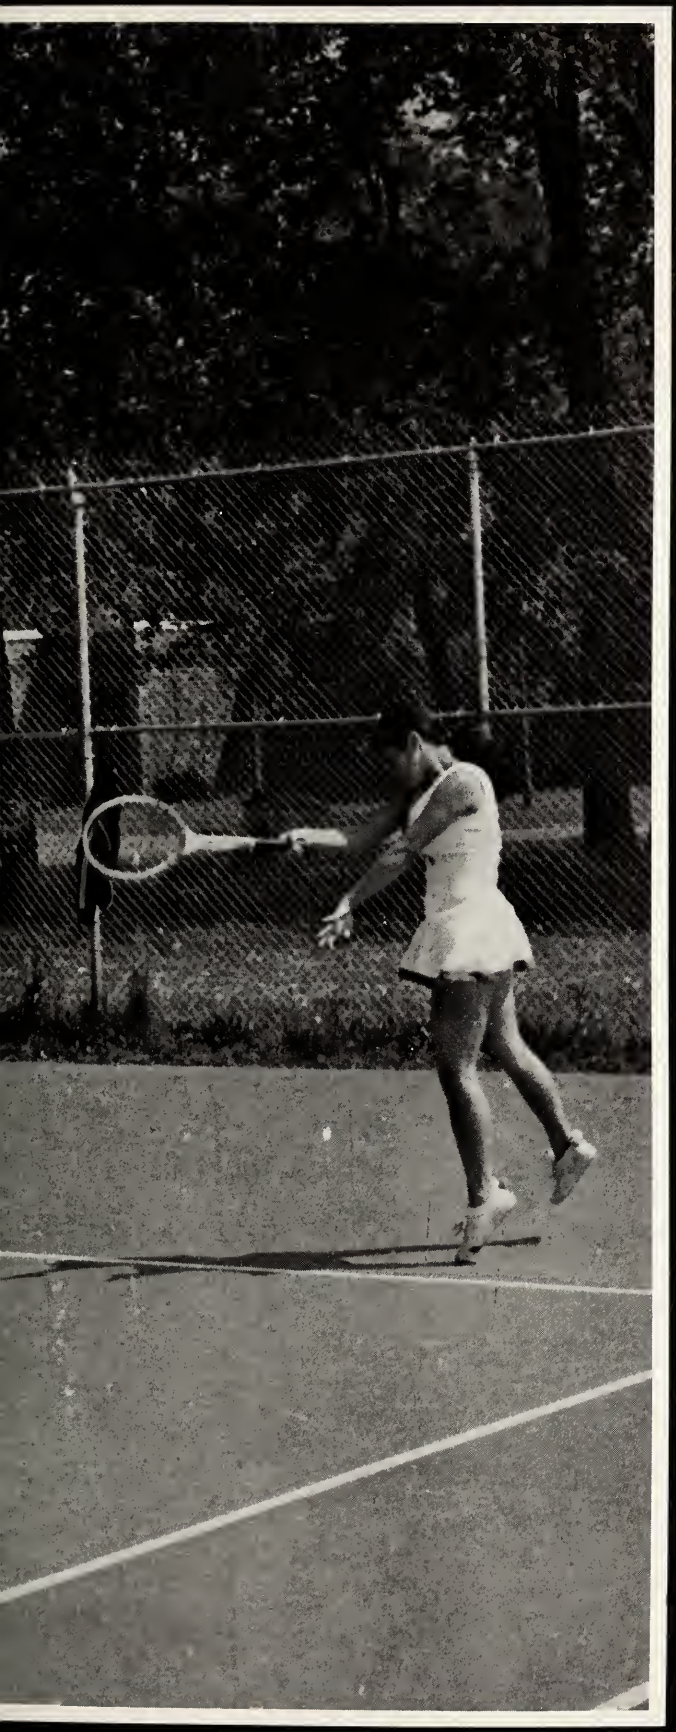


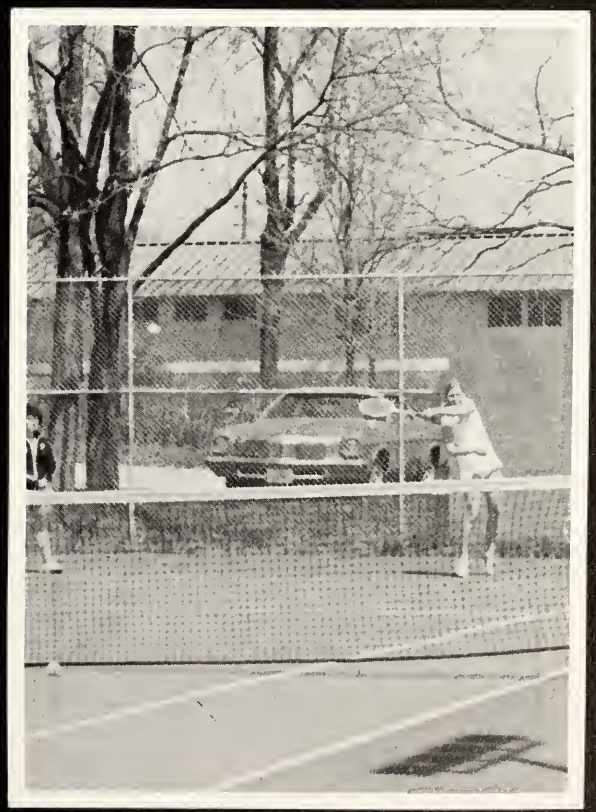
Vocal Harmony

Sphinx and Arbutus won the annual competition at Harmony Night. The event attracted eleven Greek quartets and a large crowd. Panhellenic Council awarded the sorority winners with a trophy and ten dollars, while IFC provided a five dollar prize to the winners in the fraternity division.

Racketeers

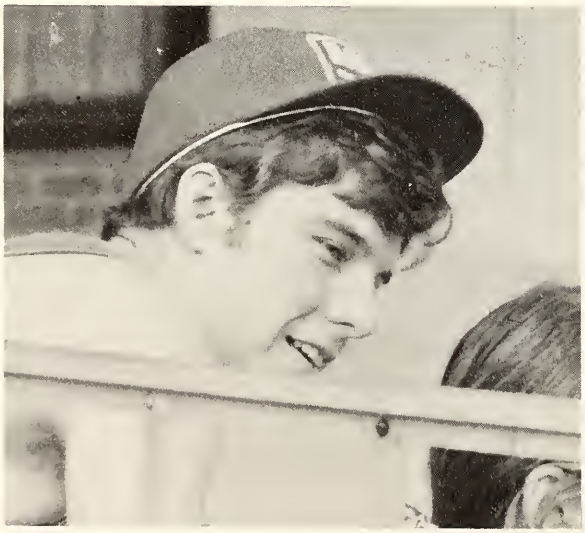
The Otters fairly inexperienced women's tennis team steadily improved as the season wore on. After dropping the first two matches, the girls showed a lot of improvement in their following match. Mrs. Kathleen Hannie coached this year's team.





"Otterstock"

Engle Productions in association with Residence Programming Service presented the Otterbein Music Festival. The order of the day was seven continuous hours of live music, and the sounds were provided by campus based talent. Jazz, folk, soul, rock, country, and featured soloists performed a wide variety of quality music.



What looks like you will die but what's really you will still live. Life is changed, not taken away.

Informality

The Village Green Concerts were performed evenings on the lawn of Tower's Hall. The Concert Band, directed by Robert Rose, and the Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Morton Achter were featured.

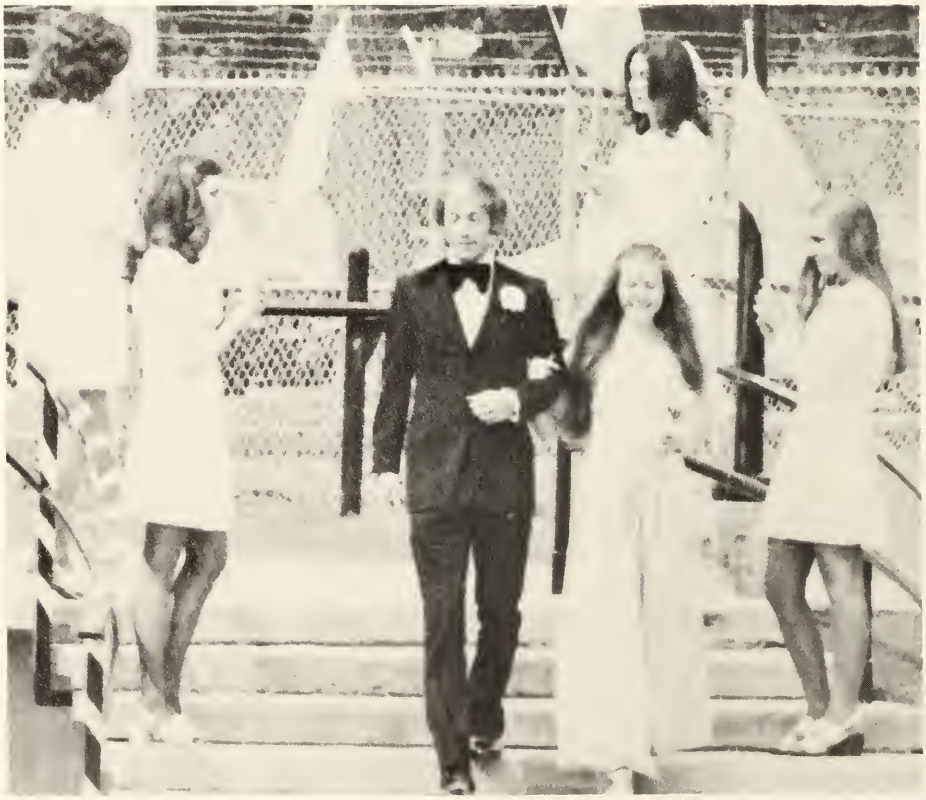
AFROTC Closes

Otterbein's unit of AFROTC is being disestablished by the Air Force as part of a nationwide move to phase out smaller groups of college AFROTC. Otterbein students will continue to be enrolled as Air Force cadets by taking their course work at Ohio State University through a cooperative arrangement.

Caberet in May



The coronation of the May Day queen and presentation of her court opened Caberet in May 1975. Jan Hollinger of Theta Nu was crowned May Day Queen, Leslie Roraback of Sigma Alpha Tau as Maid of Honor, and Elaine Schacht, Tau Epsilon Mu and Julie Mathias, Epsilon Kappa Tau were attendents

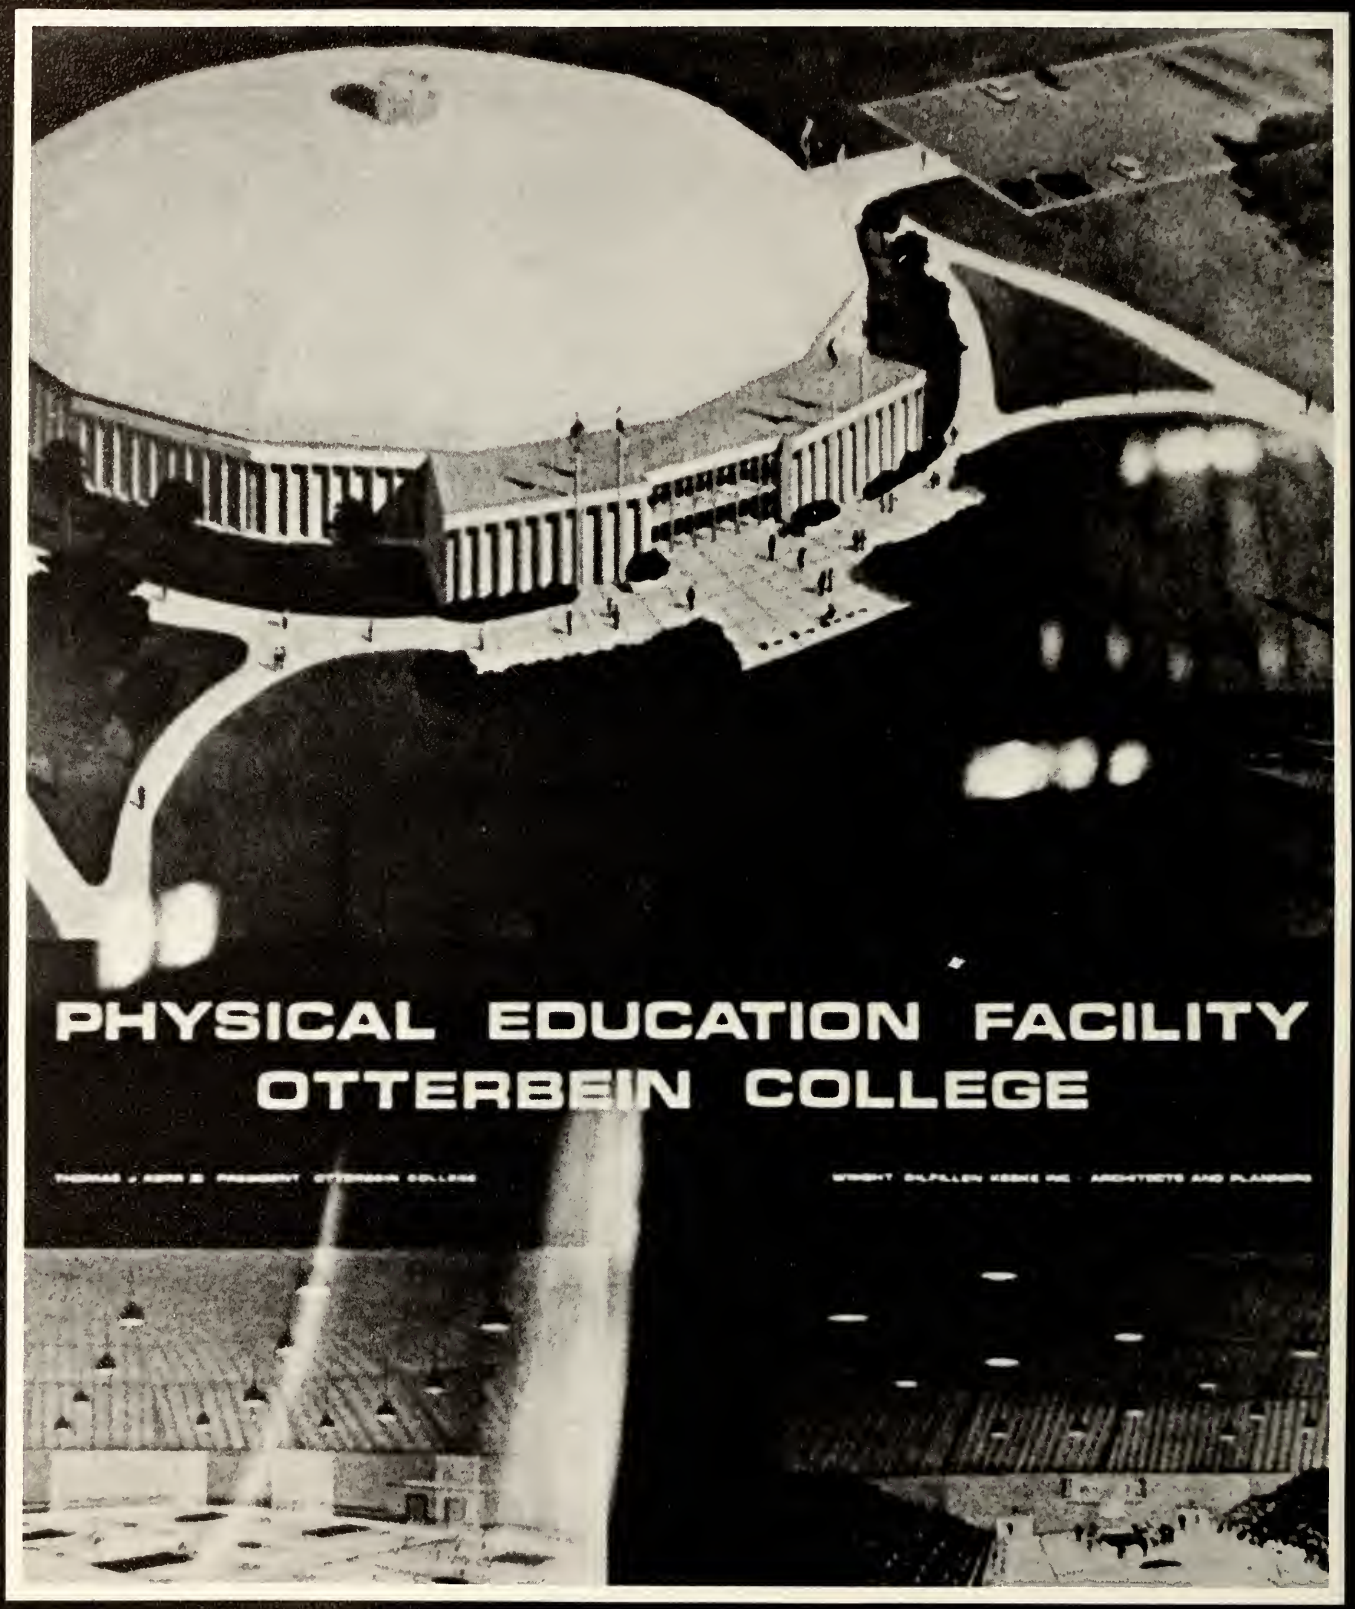
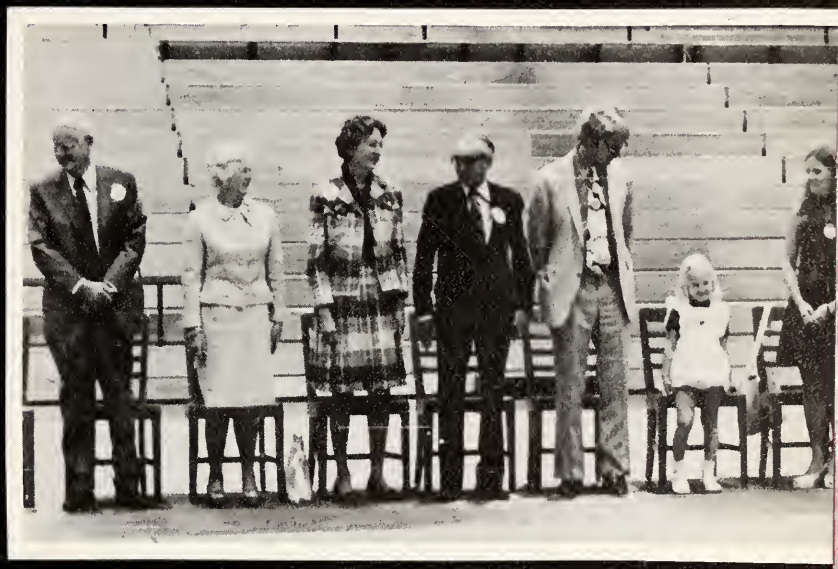
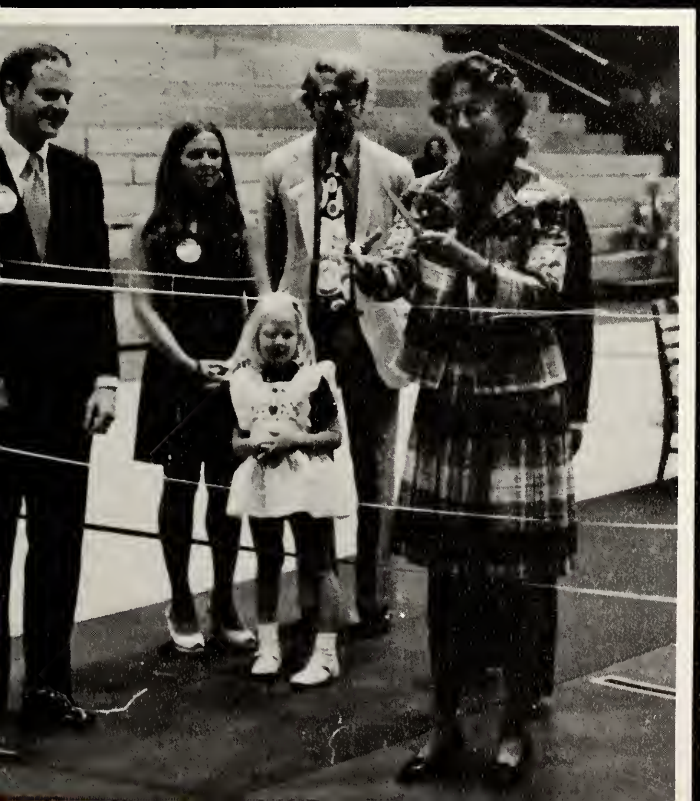
Dedication



The dedication of Otterbein College's multi-purpose Rike Physical Education Recreation Center was held May Day weekend. Included in the dedication was the recognition of twelve Otterbein Alumni with Achievement Awards in Physical Education and Athletics. A ribbon cutting ceremony was included, with Otterbein President Dr. Thomas J. Kerr and the seven members of the Rike family participating. The family, in whose honor the building was named, has had a devoted association with the college.





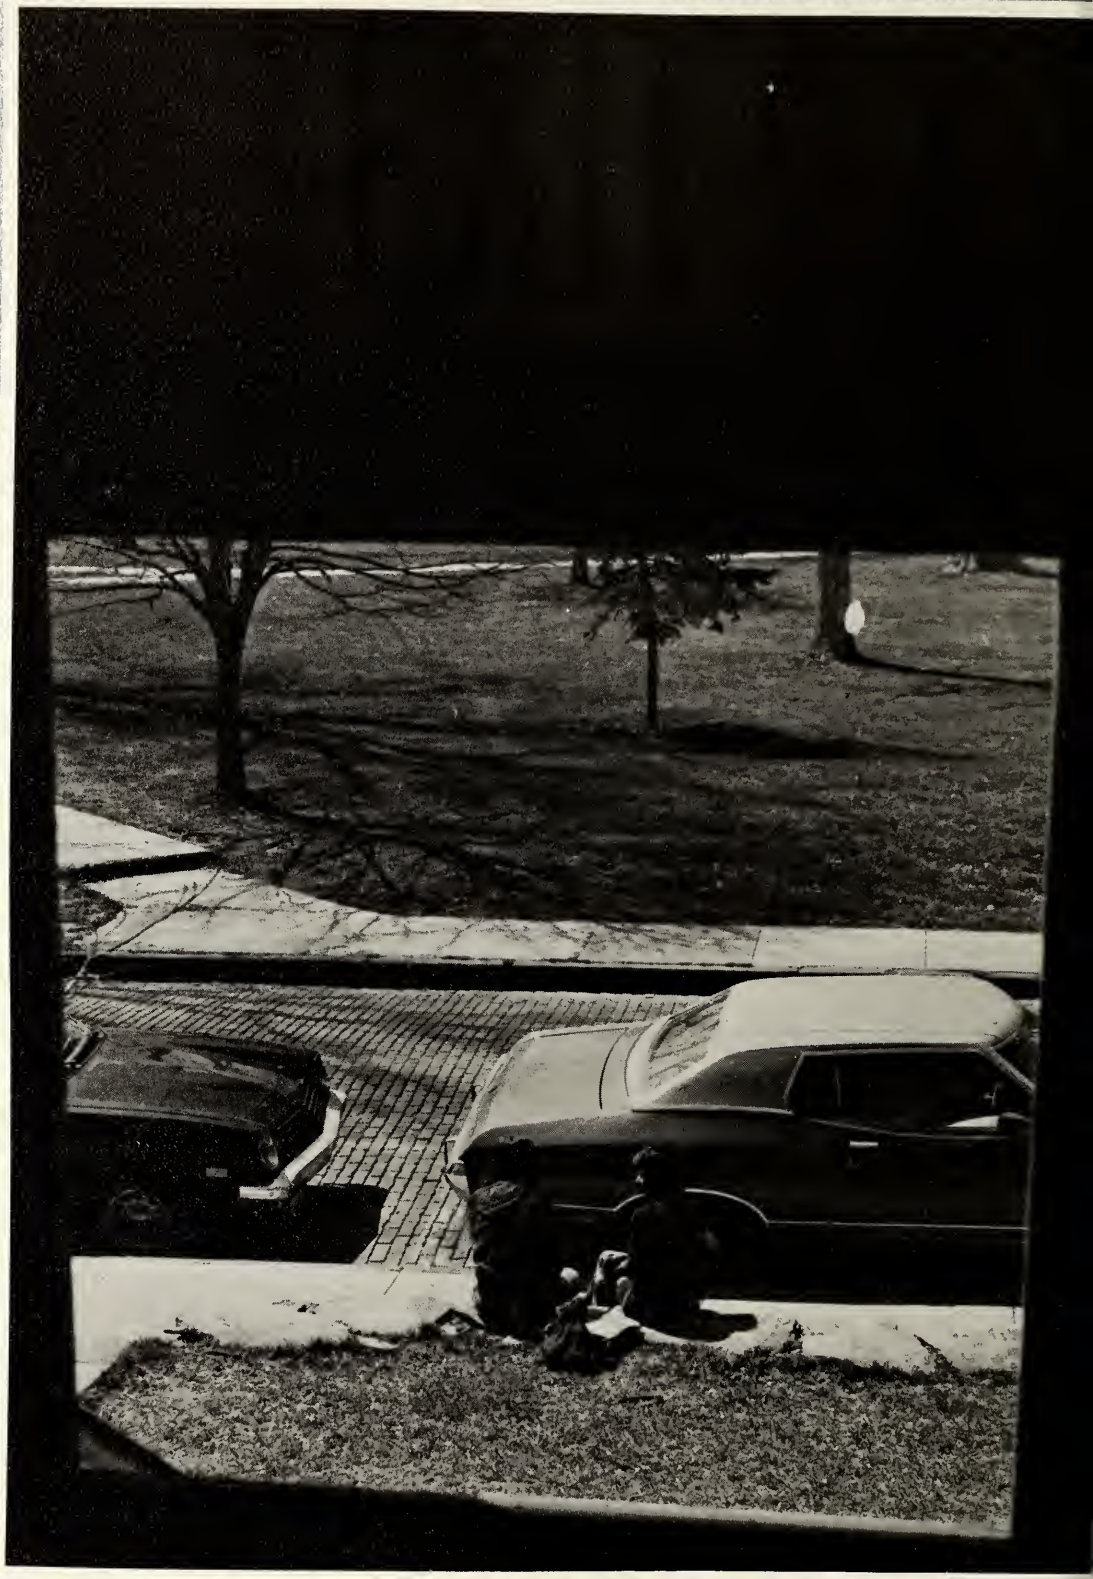
Caberet

Caberet, a musical filled with laughter and gaiety was the final Otterbein Theatre production of the regular season. Through many hours of strenuous rehersals the cast members practiced and polished their German accents for the four performances. Caberet proved to be a delight for all.

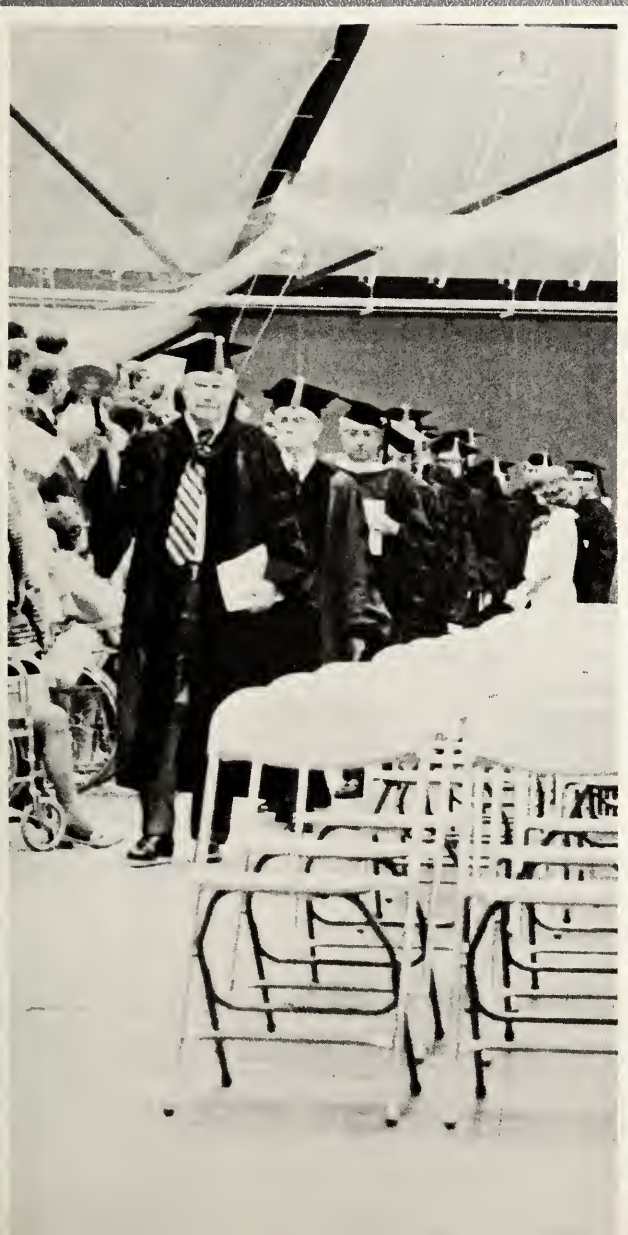
Exercise in Fitness

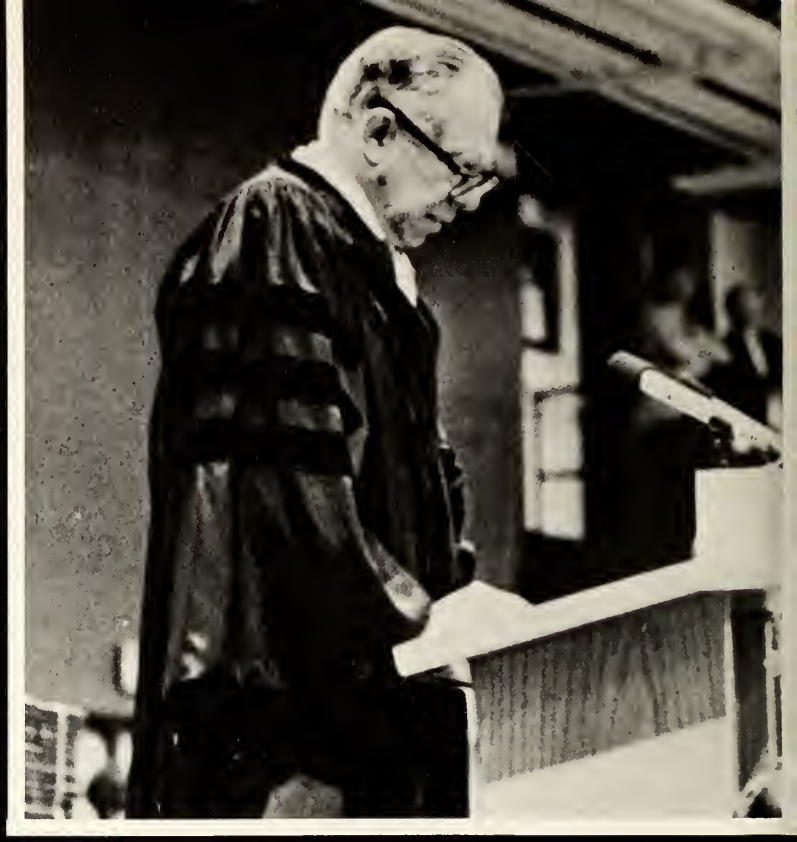
The Danish Gymmm Team presented the first public performance in the Rike Center. Members of the team, are carefully selected from among Denmark's outstanding gymnasts. Vaulting and tumbling by men and exercise in balanced beams and with such equipment as hoops, balls, clubs, ropes, and tambourines by the woment highlighted the program. Also included was a selection of ancient Danish folk dances.

Otterbein is . . People.



Short of riches,
yet full of wealth





Dr. Glen T. Seaborg honored Otterbein College as the guest speaker of the 1975 Commencement Convocation. He is the past chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Dr. Seaborg's latest position is President-elect and the President of the American Chemical Society for 1975-1976. Jill Leasure led the Otterbein Love Song and Bob James gave the benediction.

As you leaf through the pages of this yearbook, we hope that the spectrum of Otterbein becomes as much of a reality to you, as it has been to us. Otterbein is more than a temporary resting point in each of our lives. It is a place to experience, to learn, to become. It is a place where time enhances moments of sharing and moments of aloneness which have in turn allowed us to become what we are through experiencing both good times and bad.

We are, in essence, products of our experiences. It is up to each of us to improve our minds, our bodies, our lives . . . by becoming involved. Otterbein was not established to host a crowd of apathetic individuals whose time is spent critically analyzing others who have tried or dared to accomplish, in hopes of extending something to others.

Otterbein is, can be, and should be a setting for involvement, where compassion and understanding become a realization in the learning process. The spectrum of Otterbein does not end, rather it continues to broaden throughout life as our goals become realities.

As the pages of the 1975 SIBYL draw to an end, we, the editors, are left with many of our own memories of this past year. Putting a yearbook together was by no means an easy job. There were frustrations and headaches that seemed to override the good moments at times. Now, there is a feeling of gratification of having done the best we could and seeing the book finally completed. As you look back at this past year through the pages of this book, open your mind to the realization that this is Otterbein; a place where there is time to look, to read, to learn, to experience, to think . . . a time to be. If Otterbein fulfills these needs in those of us who believe in and belong to her, not only is Otterbein alive, Otterbein is a reality.

"Reality, for some people is broader than it is for others, because they have looked more,
lived more,
read more,
experienced more,
and thought more." (tah)

To our staff and those people who helped to make this book a reality, we extend our deep appreciation and sincere thanks.
